"DIABLO" DUD FINALLY IS EXPLODED WITH A STUNNING PURPLE HUE OVER DESERT

Atomic Test Site, Nev., (P)—"Diablo", the nuclear dud of two weeks ago, burst with a stunning purple hue over the Nevada desert at 4:30 a. m. today.

The explosion was the seventh of the current summer test series. The blossom atop the cloud was surrounded by a fluorescent purple color which began to fade about a minute after the blast.

The stem supporting the blossom also had a new look. It was not straight, as most have been in previous shots, but bulged a little at the bottom.

The cloud from the blast rose swiftly to about 30,000 feet. The portion above 15,000 feet then began heading toward southeastern Utah. The Atomic Energy Commission said the air mass probably would switch directions later and head for Wyoming.

The portion of the cloud below 15,000 feet dispersed rapidly.

The blast was roughly one-half as powerful as the atomic bombs dropped on Japan during World War II.

"Diablo" originally was scheduled to be detonated June 27, then was postponed a day. On June 28, the bomb failed to fire because of a power failure.

Several other postponements were made before the device was exploded this morning from a 500-foot steel tower.

Newsman watched the explosion from News Nob, about 14 miles from Ground Zero. They felt a moderate shock wave.

Eight hundred military observers, 102 of them Canadians, watched the explosion from trenches about 4,400 yards from Ground Zero.

Two thousand feet from Ground Zero, a group of technicians were stationed in an underground shelter equipped with devices to measure radioactivity.

There were no troop maneuvers in connection with today's shot but about 40 aircraft were aloft on crew indoctrination and cloud tracking missions.

The Atomic Energy Commission had said the blast was not expected to produce any appreciable fallout outside the firing range.

At San Francisco, observers reported the blast produced an orange-yellow glow in the sky.

At Bridgeport, Calif., 350 miles from Las Vegas, Sheriff Cecil Thornton reported that he saw the glow from the blast clearly and that the subsequent shock wave shook his house.

It was deathly quiet as Britain told what happened last fall when school opened.

Evacuation at Altoona Is Reported a Success

Ebensburg (P)—Dr. Richard Gerstell, state civil defense director, says the test evacuation of 1,400 Altoona residents in a mock disaster problem was a "success—well organized and directed."

The evacuees—all volunteers—left their homes yesterday and traveled 22 miles in an eight-mile caravan of 400 autos to a marshalling area on the Cambria County Fair Grounds just outside Ebensburg.

Auxiliary police and civil defense volunteers kept the motorcade moving at a steady 35 miles an hour. From the air, planes observed the procession and reported its progress to the marshalling area.

The evacuees were given coffee and doughnuts then watched demonstrations of fire, first aid and rescue facilities.

DIES FROM INJURIES

Johnstown (P)—William F. Lesnak, 34, of Johnstown, died yesterday of injuries suffered last Monday while riding in a car that crashed into a coal loading ramp near Beaverdale.

For the one contacted office, the delegates named John J. Piparato of Easton to be junior vice commander.

Plans Are Launched For New Department of Public Welfare

Harrisburg (P)—Gov. Leader started plans today for the merger of the Department of Welfare and the Department of Public Assistance by next June.

The new agency will be the Department of Public Welfare, consolidating the duties of both the present agencies.

Under a new law signed by the governor Saturday, he must first name an advisory board to complete the merger. Although he praised the bill as one that "opens the way for more efficient administration," it poses a special appointive problem for Leader. To head the new agency, he must choose between Harry Shapiro, secretary of welfare, and Mrs. Ruth Grigg Horting, secretary of public assistance, or name a third person and let both Shapiro and Mrs. Horting go.

The governor has been high in praise for both department heads. The new department will have a budget of $50 million dollars, second highest for state agencies, for the current two-year fiscal period. The merger must be completed by June 1 but may be done sooner.

Record Dance at Tennis Court Friday Evening

Friday night a record dance will be at the tennis courts. It will begin at 9.00 and last until 11.00. The admission will be free and playground people and parents are invited.

Tuesday, at the playgrounds, will be a peanut scramble; Wednesday, a pet show (dogs are omitted); Thursday, a picnic hike; Friday, baton twirling and cheer leading contest. More complete report from Playgrounds supervisor will be printed later.

Discussion On Civil Rights Is On Again Today

Washington (P)—Democratic Leader Johnson of Texas told the Senate today the compromise proposals advanced since the civil rights debate began are "the reaction of thinking men who realize great issues must be met with reason instead of blind dogma."

Johnson described last week's debate as some of the "finest" in the Senate's history.

"When the debate began," he said, "there was widespread belief that the Senate was shackled and handcuffed. It was thought that we could do nothing but accept the bill without crossing a 'T' or dotting an 'I' or reject it altogether."

The Senate, he said, "has demonstrated that it is not in a strait jacket, but can act according to its convictions as to the course that serves the national interest."

Several of the compromise suggestions are aimed at eliminating or modifying the controversial Section 3 of the bill.

But Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) told reporters the administration would oppose striking out the section entirely.

Section 3 would permit the attorney general to obtain federal court injunctions against violations, or threatened violations, of voting and other civil rights.

Some senators have suggested limiting the authority under this section to protection of voting rights.

Sen. Ervin (D-NC) told reporters he thought there was a "good chance" the bill could be reduced "to what its supporters have been advertising it to be—namely a voting rights bill."

Knowland, a leader of the civil rights proponents, said he was not prepared to discuss any changes in the bill until the Senate votes tomorrow on his motion to make it the pending order of business.

Pike Trial Juror Dies Suddenly In Harrisburg Hotel

BULLETIN

Harrisburg (P)—James F. Torrance, suspended Pennsylvania Turnpike commissioner, took the stand in his own defense today at the toll road conspiracy trial. Torrance, 69, outlined in his preliminary testimony the steps which carried him from a Westmoreland County high school to a political career in the Republican party and eventually to the post of Secretary-treasurer of the Turnpike Commission.

Harrisburg (P)—The trial of nine men on charges they conspired to defraud the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission entered its seventh week today with the jury reduced to the legal minimum of 12.

Juror Ray L. Bingaman, 74, a retired cabinet maker, died yesterday in the downtown hotel where the panel is confined while not in court.

He was replaced on the panel by Mrs. Bessie M. Blake, a widow and the first alternate juror. The (Turn to Page Seven)

CLARION MAN LOSES

Detroit (P)—Jack Farris of New Paris, Ohio, was declared the winner of a 100-mile new car race at the Detroit Fairgrounds Sunday when Russ Kepler of Clarion, Pa., was disqualified. Hepler, first across the finish line, was penalized one lap for passing when the caution flag was out.

The race, carrying a first prize of $1,000, was sponsored by the Midwest Assn. of Race Cars.

DEBATE OPENS IN HOUSE ON FOREIGN AID

By LEWIS GULICK

Washington (P)—The House, moving toward consideration of a $3,242,333,000 foreign aid and authorization today, was told Russia's "lesser emphasis on violence" is due only to free world strength.

Chairman Gordon (D-Ill.) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee said in a speech prepared for opening debate on the bill: "The current shifts in the Kremlin mean new faces, but we have no basis whatever for any hope that the old Communist threat has been removed."

And he said the present Soviet leadership showed in Hungary it is still willing to use military force to gain its ends.

Gordon made a strong plea for approval of the measure without major change and floor managers of both parties predicted it would be passed that way. But the bill faced some bitter opposition and several determined efforts at amendment.

Rep. Lawrence H. Smith (R-Wis.), a member of the Foreign Affairs Committee, said he considers the bill "dangerous" and "unnecessary."

The measure is "dangerous," he said in a prepared speech, because it "is the almost complete abdication of congressional control. . . . It is unnecessary because the pipelines are already jammed with far more foreign aid funds than administrators can find places to spend."

Gordon said he favors one change in the bill—the elimination of a committee-added paragraph which, it was disclosed today, would bar much of the contemplated aid program for Poland. It would make all assistance provided under the bill subject to the Battle Act, which bans aid to countries which engage in strategic trade with Soviet Russia.

That would knock out special authorization for the President to extend up to 30 million dollars in aid in special cases, regardless of the Battle Act.

Oriental Pomp Planned For Funeral of Khan

Geneva (P)—The late Aga Khan's body will be flown Wednesday to the Egyptian province of Aswan, where the Moslem leader will be buried in Oriental pomp amid scenic beauties he loved.

A family spokesman said the remains of the spiritual ruler of 20 million Ismaili Muslims will be accompanied by his widow the begum, his son Ali, and his grandson, successor, Aga Khan IV. Twelve representatives of Ismaili communities in Africa, the Middle East, India and Pakistan will also go along.

The spokesman said the 79-year-old leader's embalmed body will lie in state Tuesday and most of Wednesday at the lakeside villa where he died last week. It will leave late Wednesday in a chartered Swiss Airlines plane.

Two Killed in Crash Near Washington, Pa.

Washington, Pa. (P)—An auto left Route 231 about nine miles northwest of Washington yesterday and rolled down a steep embankment, killing two members of a Washington County family and injuring two others.

Mrs. Frances Tausel, 25, of Washington RD 1, and her 10-month-old daughter, Mary Jo, were instantly killed.

Mrs. Tausel's husband, Fred, 27, the driver, escaped injury. The family was returning home from a picnic when the crash occurred.

17 in State Overtaken By Accidental Deaths

By The Associated Press

Seventeen persons—the youngest 10 months and the eldest in the middle 60s—were overtaken by accidental death in Pennsylvania at the weekend.

As usual, the heaviest toll was from the automobile. Ten lives were lost that way.

Three persons drowned. A man and a woman burned to death in separate tragedies. A fall from a roof took one life, and a strange accident caused the other non-traffic fatality. A 35-year-old Philadelphia woman, unable to find a key for a building she wanted to enter, thrust her right arm through a glass door. She died from loss of blood.

Ten Youths Held For Stealing Gas For Their Hot Rods

Warren County Sheriff's Department today announced the apprehension of ten youths whose nightly visits to gas tanks of unattended trucks had netted them approximately 1,000 gallons of gas for their hot rods.

Seven of the boys are juveniles and will appear in juvenile court. Three others, Julius Glow, 18, of RD 1, Pittsfield, Kenneth Carlson, 18, of Youngsville and Joseph Phillips, 21, of RD 2, Pittsfield, appeared before Peace Justice J. Regis Thompson and were charged with larceny. They will appear in court.

The thefts have occurred over the past year and among the spots visited were Morgan's Lumber Mill at Pittsfield, Brown Run Lumber Company owned by John Young, Youngsville Star Farm Service, Bob's Garage on Matthews Run Road, Chevrolet Garage in Youngsville, the latter of which also lost various car parts, tires, wheels, etc. A radio was also taken from William's Star Service in Youngsville.

The youths were rounded up last week by Sheriff Larry Linder, chief deputy Don Allen, Charles Anthony, Pittsfield constable and Youngsville Police.

Travel Exchange Students Guests At Rotary Meeting

Five World Travel Exchange students wound up a full weekend of activity in Warren this afternoon when they attended a Rotary luncheon as guests of the membership which had sponsored their visit here.

The quintet arrived at 8 p. m. Saturday and later that evening had a get-acquainted session at the Frank Ferrin home. Sunday morning they attended church services and that afternoon and evening Neil Culbertson hosted a steak fry at his camp on Weiler Road. Miss Sallie Weiler, Community Youth Ambassador last year, was among those present.

This morning the group was given tours of the area and all were introduced at Rotary luncheon on meeting in YWCA.

Rotary hosts were: Judge and Mrs. Alexander C. Flick, Jr., Henri Fillion, 34, of Perigueux, France; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Perrin, Gisele Margulier, 28, of Paris; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schneck, Daniel Vander Goten, 28, of Brussels, Belgium, Mr. and Mrs. Shury Glass, Guy Decerf, 31, of Brussels, Belgium; Mr. and Mrs. Neil Culbertson, John McDermott of New York University, tour guide.

Township Officer in Venango Is Killed In Traffic Accident

Franklin (P)—Police Chief Charles MacNany, 50, of Sugar Creek Twp., burned to death Saturday night when his parked patrol car burst into flames after being struck in the rear by another auto.

State Police said MacNany was sitting in the patrol car along four-lane Route 8 about five miles north of Franklin while his deputy, Edwin A. Johnson, 50, talked with a motorist who had been stopped in a speed check.

Officers said a car driven by Norman Reardon, 54, of Oil City, hit the rear of the police car, setting it afire and trapping MacNany in the wreckage.

When the fire was finally put out, the door had to be pried open and a crowbar was used on the seat to get the body out.

A fireman from the Reno Volunteer Fire Department, which sped to the scene said the car was "like a blast furnace."

Mr. Johnson was knocked down by the collision, and he suffered a fracture of the leg and rib injuries. Young Neider sustained only minor injuries.

"WHIRLYBIRD" TAKES HIM TO SECRET POST

BULLETIN

Washington (P)—President Eisenhower was lowered onto the south lawn of the White House by helicopter today, marking the end of his participation in Operation Alert 1957. He whirled in from a secret "command post" within 200 miles of Washington, where he took personal charge of government efforts to bounce back from the theoretical holocaust of Friday's mock nuclear bomb attack in which 155 key American cities supposedly were hit. Eisenhower had departed from the White House for a secret hide-away when the civil defense drill began Friday. That trip also was by helicopter. For the first time in history, the helicopter was used to transport a president to and from the White House. The President's participation in the civil defense drill was interrupted during the weekend, which he spent at his Gettysburg, Pa. farm.

Newspoint, Operation Alert (P)—President Eisenhower flew by helicopter to a secret "command post" today to help top officials test the nation's ability to recover from a mythical H-bomb attack.

Eisenhower's small blue and white "whirlybird" put down at 9:12 a. m. in a clearing in a hill-top area after a flight from his farm at Gettysburg, Pa.

The command post to which he flew is within 200 miles of Washington, D. C., but its exact location is a secret.

As he alighted, Eisenhower smiled broadly and was greeted by Gordon Gray, chief of the Office of Defense Mobilization, and Lewis W. Berry, acting director of the Federal Civil Defense Administration. Gray and Berry are running this 4th annual nationwide drill.

"By golly, you sure have a good morning," the President remarked to Gary.

Marijuana "Farm" Is Discovered In Pittsburgh Area

Pittsburgh, (P)—Investigators of the Police Narcotics Squad today were seeking the drug "farmers" who planted more than two acres of marijuana weeds on steep hillsides within sight of Downtown Pittsburgh's Golden Triangle.

Three separate plantings which have been under police watch were destroyed yesterday. Officers estimated their potential crop would have been worth upwards of $300,000 in the narcotics traffic.

Largest of the patches covered almost two acres of steeply thickened hillside below the McArdle Roadway leading from Liberty Bridge to the top of Mt. Washington. Some of the stalks were 10 to 12 feet high, and would have been ready for harvesting very soon.

Two smaller fields were within several hundred yards, both apparently later plantings. Police said the big plot had a harvest potential of nearly a quarter million dollars to narcotics peddlers, and the smaller ones about $25,000 each.

"Oil Centennial" In 1959 Is Set Up at Titusville Meeting

The world's first oil region took its first organized step Friday at Titusville toward planning the 100th birthday of the oil industry in 1959.

The Herald says men from Titusville, Oil City and Warren elected officers for "Oil Centennial," a Pennsylvania corporation. They also voted to invite a professional celebration director of national reputation to talk over plans, with a view to hiring him.

Attorney Charles B. Stegner of Titusville, chairman of the Drake Well Memorial Park Advisory Board, was elected president of Oil Centennial. Arthur W. Clinger of Oil City, a vice president of the South Penn Oil Co., was named vice president. Frank D. Hill, vice president of the Titusville Trust Co., was elected treasurer, and Robert C. Newell, secretary. Mr. Newell is executive secretary of the Titusville Chamber of Commerce.

The election took place at a meeting of the incorporators of Oil Centennial in the Pithole Room of the Colonel Drake Hotel.

Alfred Stern of New York, director of civic celebrations throughout the country, will be invited to meet with the Centennial group early in August.

Mr. Stegner said that experience with the Diamond Jubilee of Oil in 1934 showed that the following 24 committees would be needed for the Centennial:

Finance, publicity, invitations, programs, housing, costuming, maps, stamps and emblems, civic improvement, guides, first aid, legal, folk dancing, parade, information, decorating, concessions, fireworks, exhibits, traffic, recognition, reception, historical sites, and music.

He estimated that about $25,000 was spent on the Diamond Jubilee, exclusive of floats and company exhibits, and said that more would be needed in 1959 for two reasons: (1) prices have advanced since 1939 and (2) the Centennial will be a bigger event.

Present in addition to the officers who were elected, were the following: Charles L. Suhr and E. P. Boyle of Oil City; Harry A. Logan Jr. of Warren; John M. Dunn, Mayor C. C. Hampton, Russell J. Hopkins, Charles E. Kinder and James B. Stevenson, all of Titusville.

PLANNING vs. PANIC

Binghamton Evacuates 1,500 People in Pace-Setting Test

In a Sunday "outing" with a serious purpose, 1,500 residents of Binghamton, N. Y., traveled 28 miles from their homes to tiny Deposit, N. Y., in one of the largest civil defense evacuation exercises ever held.

The test, involving 372 autos and a special train, was symbolic of the survival effort which millions of Americans would make in a real emergency to put miles between themselves and threatened nuclear attack.

"EVAC 12"—code name of the exercise involving Binghamton's 12th ward—included two sets of motorists in the four-hour test. When the alarm sounded, the first group of 500 persons simulated panic by driving on to the evacuation highway helter-skelter in uncontrolled movement.

Shortly afterward, the first of some 250 cars began moving out of a checkpoint on Route 17 in controlled groups of 14 cars each for the trip to Deposit.

Lt. Gen. Clarence R. Huebner, who observed the test along with New York's Lt. Gov. George B. DeLuca, said that "probably for safety's sake under disaster conditions, we would do better with the small, controlled grouping of cars."

Aboard the special train were 64 simulated patients of an emergency hospital, and 48 youngsters "displaced" or "lost" in the confusion of potential attack.

Evacuees were assigned for visits to the homes of Deposit residents when they arrived, just as might be necessary on a longer-term basis after a real attack.

After a dinner, served under improvised conditions, they returned home with a "well done" from pleased civil defense officials and the knowledge that they were better prepared for the real thing if it ever comes.

FATHER AND SON guard the control center for "Evac 12," the emergency evacuation test in Binghamton, N. Y., recently. Some 1,500 residents were directed from their homes in Binghamton to Deposit, N. Y., 28 miles, and "resettled" there for the day. (Binghamton Press Photo)

BLOOD PLASMA is supposedly given to a "hospital patient" moved out of Binghamton, N. Y., during the simulated medical exercise which accompanied the civil defense "Evac 12" evacuation test in May. Sixty-four "litter patients" were given simulated treatments just as they would be if they were in an emergency hospital when nuclear attack threatened, or in the aftermath of such an attack on the United States. (Binghamton Press Photo)

CONGRATULATIONS to the more than 1,000 workers in "Evac 12," Binghamton, N. Y.'s recent evacuation exercise, were given by Lt. Gen. George B. DeLuca (right), and New York State Civil Defense Director Lt. Gen. Clarence R. Huebner at a press conference following the huge test. Crediting three local civil defense directors for execution of the state-devised plan, General Huebner concluded from the favorable and serious public response to the test that "its value will be immense not only to the 16,000,000 people of New York State but to the entire nation." EVACUATION TRAIN on which 110 simulated medical patients and "displaced" children were carried to "safety" is shown loading at Binghamton, N. WARREN "GOOFS"

So far as the Warren area was concerned last Friday's Civil Defense test designated nationally as "Operation Alert 1957" was a complete wash-out.

As was stated in Friday's issue local CD officials, trusting to public know-how after two "familiarization" tests earlier in the week, decided to call off the Auxiliary Police and see how motorists would respond by themselves when the take-cover siren sounded.

It was no surprise that motorists did not respond. When the warbling "take cover" blasts sounded about two o'clock, everything moved as if nothing was happening—there was no letup either in automobile or pedestrian traffic.

The "Operation", however, did demonstrate one fact and that is that the warning system set up by Civil Defense officials, unlike some other communities in the district, is completely adequate.

Reports from the state and nation, concerning the results of the tests, fortunately are more satisfactory than those from local CD officials, although some observers report there is still confusion over alert signals and a lackadaisical attitude on the part of the public generally.

As the Franklin News-Herald so aptly puts it: "Let's face it: the public neither knows nor cares too much about Civilian Defense at this moment. Each time a state or national practice alert such as the one scheduled today is planned, newspapers and other media knock themselves out attempting to attract attention to the event. What happens? The sirens start to blow and the people look around in confusion asking 'where's the fire, what's going on?' They either don't read the articles or the words fail to sink in. They are annoyed by drills, men running around in uniform, and stopping of traffic when they are in a hurry to get someplace."

On the other hand Dr. Richard Gertsell, State Civil Defense director, a frequent visitor in Warren, describes the drill as "a good, orderly operation." He also had a word of praise for 50,000 Boy Scouts encamped at Valley Forge, in their annual jamboree. Their reaction to the mock alert, he says, was a "well accepted success."

And that, sad to relate, is more than can be said for residents of Warren who were in the business section when the alert was sounded.

SOUNDS LIKE A GOOD IDEA

Motorists generally will learn with satisfaction that District engineers of the State Department of Highways are to submit recommendations by August first on establishment of forty-mile-an-hour speed zones.

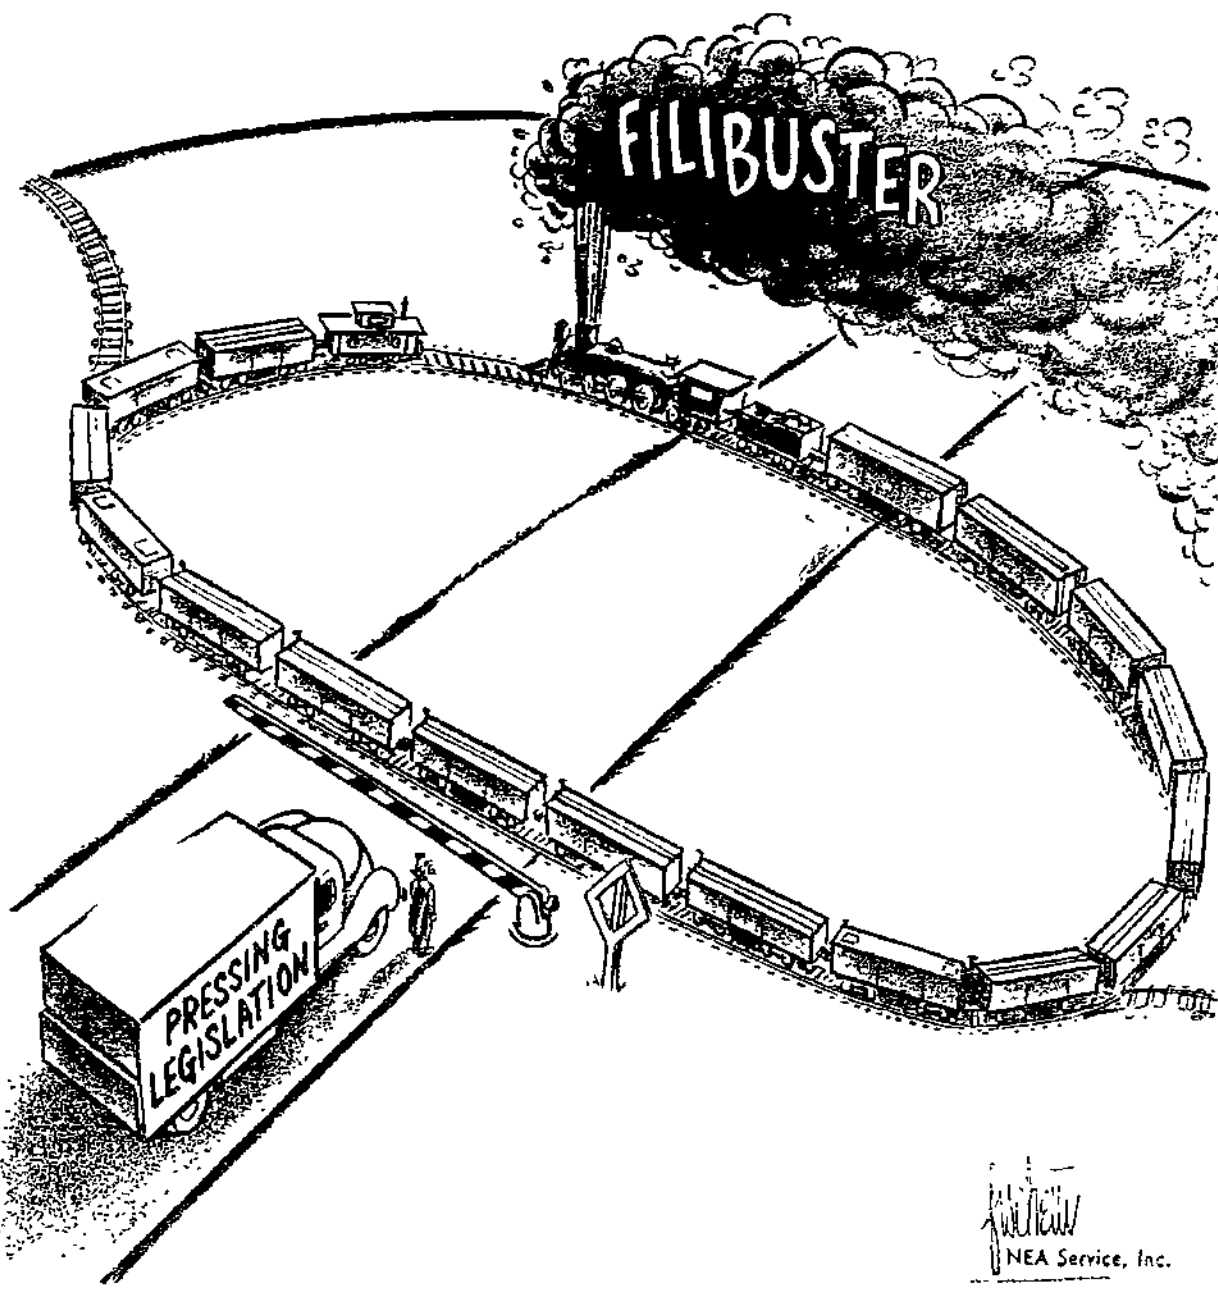

An Associated Press dispatch from Harrisburg says the Department is reviewing present 25 and 35 mile-and-hour zones with the idea that forty miles might be better "along the more modern highways."

The district engineers were asked to obtain information on zones that were established without department permission, extended without permission or that are too low for conditions.

There are a number of such stretches of improved highways, some of them three-lane, in this immediate area supposed to be restricted to 35-miles-an-hour—which few drivers observe.

Four Warren homes were honored in an unusual manner when they were permitted to entertain as many foreign students who arrived in town Saturday evening to spend the weekend visiting industries and other places of interest in and around the borough. After being special guests at the weekly luncheon-meeting of the Rotary Club today they continued their tour of industrial centers and historical spots in the country.

Looks Like a Long Wait

Here and There

In connections with discussions for the proposed new Warren area High School the following paragraph from the July 13, 1957, issue of the Warren Evening Mirror makes interesting reading:

"A short time ago the court appointed Cat. H. H. Cummings, of Tidouette, E. Weatherby, of Russell and A. M. McDonald, of Sugar Grove, to appraise the property at the corner of Market and Second streets, belonging to the Ludlow estate and selected by the Board of Education as the most suitable location for the proposed new high school." It was on this very lot the present high school was erected in 1897. The article continues, "The appraisers met Monday and after viewing the property they adjourned to the court room and summoned a dozen or more residents to the borough to testify as to the value of the property. The amounts varied from $6,500 to $12,000, as follows: E. D. Wetmore, $11,000; to $12,000; W. A. Talbot, $10,000; F. P. Hue, $9,000 to $12,000;

Chas. Chase, $7,000; John Clark, $7,500; Chas. Schimmelfeng, $7,500; S. H. Davis, $7,000; D. F. A. Whellock, $6,500 to $7,000; Jas. Mair, $7,000; G. N. Parmlee, $7,000; T. W. McNet, $7,000; W. W. Rankin, $7,000. This forenoon the appraisers filed their report fixing the price at $8,600. The Board of Education paid $6,500 for the Beisecker and Clark lots, which makes the aggregate cost of the site $15,000."

Also taken from the same paper was the following article pertaining to cycle racing: "As has been stated previously in these columns, tickets of membership are being sold at $1 each for the Warren Cycle Path Association. The work of constructing the cycle path will not commence until enough of these tickets are sold to make up the deficiency existing in the amount needed to put the project through. Those who contribute will be given a plate to attach to their bicycle in a prominent place. Thus it will be possible to detect those who use the path and who have not assisted in its construction. Tickets may be secured from F. D. Russell, treasurer."

An article of some what different material is repeated from the Warren Mirror of Thursday, July 15, 1897:

"For some time past a gang of tramps have been in camp on the point across the creek. They have made themselves obnoxious in many ways and Tuesday night two of them beat a resident of the East Side. Wednesday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock, a raid was made upon the camp by Officers Babcock, Dickinson, Hassett and Magee. Three of the gang were armed and they pulled revolvers when the officers approached. No shots were exchanged but two hoboes fought viciously and one was clubbed almost unconscious before he was subdued and he swore he would kill Officer Hassett as soon as he was free. There were about a dozen in the gang and only four were captured. They were arraigned before Justice Perry and one was bound over to court while the others were given thirty, sixty and ninety days respectively in jail. On one, in addition to an immense new revolver, was found a fuse, bits of rope with rings and hooks in the end and a stick of dynamite. It is believed that they are members of a gang that has been operating in this section of late and that they are the same who entered the houses of H. A. Jamieson, Rev. Father McCabe, and the County Treasurer's office and who have been playing their trade in Corry, Youngsville, Ludlow and other nearby towns. Late Wednesday night six more of the gang were gathered in, four of whom were sent to jail for 30 days."

Disarmament Hopes Were Built on Flimsy Pretense

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Hopes for an arms limitation agreement with the Russians have now been given a not-unexpected setback at the five-power U.N. Disarmament subcommittee conference in London.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin did not reject the entire American plan outright. He merely rejected the basic American proposal on which the whole U.S. plan is built.

This plan has been presented by the American delegate, Harold Stassen, from June 20 through July 5. Its key is the proposal to ban nuclear weapon testing for 10 months in exchange for an agreement to stop production of all atomic and hydrogen weapons at the end of that period.

Zorin rejected not only the American test ban. He also turned down a proposal made by Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd on behalf of the governments of the United Kingdom, Canada, France and the United States. This was to set up immediately a technical committee to design a foolproof system of inspection to check against nuclear weapons testing.

THIS WAS A TYPICAL Russian reversal of form. In the past, the Russian position has always been that controls and inspection were unnecessary. Then, on June 15, Zorin indicated that to move toward agreement the Russians would accept inspection posts in the Soviet Union, the United States, Britain and Pacific areas to guard against nuclear weapons testing.

Zorin did not reply at this time to questions about whether the Russians would also agree to stop nuclear weapons production. But it was taken as an important concession that the Russians had at last accepted inspection—a key U.S. point.

This was supported somewhat by Zorin's April 30 presentation to the London conference, in which he outlined a Russian disarmament plan. This accepted in principle the necessity for safeguarding against surprise attack. Now he has apparently rejected this whole concept.

IT IS CONSIDERED possible that Zorin's latest position in turning down the key American plan provision is merely a tactical move to enable him to represent the Russian plan. The purpose in this case would be to make his plan the basis for future negotiations.

The Russian plan was first presented Nov. 17. It called for an immediate halt of nuclear weapon tests, destruction of nuclear weapon stockpiles within two years, a ban on their use thereafter. At the same time the Russians proposed a reduction in U.S., U.S.S.R. and Red Chinese armed forces to 2½ million men within one year and to 1½ million men within two years.

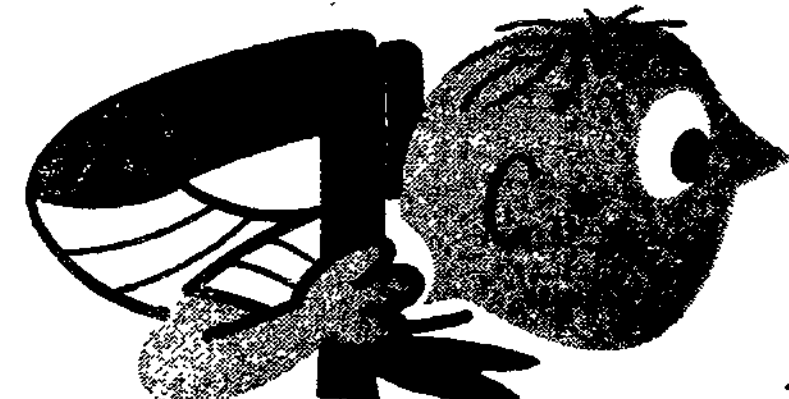

Reduction of forces within NATO and Warsaw Pact countries was proposed. Military expenditures were to be cut proportionately. Here for the first time the Russians accepted President Eisenhower's proposal for "open skies" inspection. They proposed it for an area 480 miles east and west of the iron curtain.

ON APRIL 30, the Russians amended this provision to provide as areas of inspection Alaska and the western U.S. in exchange for eastern Siberia, western Europe in exchange for the satellite countries and a thin slice of western Russia.

This was a lopsided offer in the Communists' favor. But it is typical of the gimmicks put in most of their offers. Yet this was hailed in some quarters as a major concession by the Russians.

On flimsy pretenses of this kind, hopes have been built up that it would be possible to do disarmament business with the Russians.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

MONDAY

Thou didst say, 'Woe is me now!' for the Lord hath added grief to my sorrow; I fainted in my sighing, and I find no rest.—Jeremiah 45:3.

Great grief makes sacred those upon whom its hand is laid. Joy may elevate, ambition glorify, but sorrow alone can consecrate.

MRS. WILBUR T. WAKELY

First Presbyterian church was setting of a lovely candlelight wedding at 8:30 p. m. Saturday, July 13, when Miss Nancy Lee Plummer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Leroy Plummer, of Warren, was married to Wilbur Thomas Wakely, son of Mrs. M. T. Wakely and the late Mr. M. T. Wakely, South Glens Falls, N. Y. The Rev. Donald H. Spencer performed the double ring ceremony following an organ recital by Carroll A. Fowler. The church, decorated with candles, was adorned with gladioli and baskets of white gladioli and asters; the brides were lined with candelabra decorated with white bows and gladioli.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of camelina tulle Duchess taffeta fashioned in a graceful princess lines forming a full skirt, which terminated in a full train. The empire bodice had a shallow portrait neckline, decorated with hand-run baby pearl broidery and the long fitted sleeves were pointed over the hands. A Spanish lace mantilla adorned her face, and she carried a semi-cascade bouquet of white gladioli and orchids.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Carl Doershuik, twin sister of the bride, wore a princess style ball-length gown of white silk organza with a Chantilly lace empire neckline, fashioned with a deep scoop neckline, short sleeves, and the

Youngsters Still Must Face an 'Awkward Age'

THERE is such a thing as an awkward age today. Someone has pointed out that now that teen-agers have their own styles, recreation centers, music, etc., there is no longer an awkward age.

Well, how about the boy who is too young to drive a car but too old to be happy having his mother chauffeur him on a date?

How about the girl who has worn flats so many years she teeters around when she puts on high heels for a dance?

How about the boys and girls who feel they are too old to have a baby sitter in the evening, but whose parents hesitate to leave them alone in the house at night?

How about the boy who has grown so many inches in a year he can't seem to sit down without his feet taking up half the room?

How about the boy whose spending money needs have outgrown his allowance, but is told wherever he asks for a job, "We don't hire anyone under 16."

STILL AWKWARD

HOW about the boy who has to add, after he has asked a girl for a Saturday night date, "That is, if Dad will let me have the car?"

How about all the kids who are too old to get in a movie on a child's ticket but whose allowances will hardly stretch to cover a weekly movie at adult prices?

How about all the in-between agers who are told by their parents that they are still just kids when they want an adult privilege, but reminded that they are almost grown when they are being urged to be more responsible?

As long as there are adolescents there is going to be an awkward age.

McGee and Langlais Rite In Rhode Island Church

Announcement is received from Coventry, R. I., of the marriage of Claire Rita Langlais, daughter of Highway Commissioner and Mrs. Ephraim Langlais, of Knotty Oak road, Coventry, to Frederick Donald McGee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McGee, of Garland, which took place in St. Vincent de Paul church, with Rev. Norman Farley officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was in Chantilly lace over taffeta, her queen's crown of pearls and rhinestones holding a finger-tip veil, and her prayer book marked with a white orchid and baby's breath.

Rita Gauvin was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Ann Clafre and Elaine Reis, gowning in orchid, yellow and pale green, respectively, with matching headpieces, and carrying colonial bouquets of mixed flowers.

Richard Lefebvre was best man and ushers were Ronald Grygiel and Antonio Langlais.

Following the reception at Riverside Tap, the newlyweds left for Pennsylvania and West Virginia, and will reside on Gervais street, Coventry, after July 22.

The bride, a 1953 graduate of Coventry High School, is a senior clerk typist for the purchasing department of the State of Rhode Island. The bridegroom attended Garland schools, and is presently stationed at Quonset, R. I.

STARBRICK AUXILIARY

The Starbrick Firemen's Auxiliary reminded there will be no meeting in July, the next to be on August 20. At the last regular meeting of the group, reports were presented on a rummage sale in June, netting $85; a smorgasbord in May, with a profit of $139.

Proceeds from these projects are being used to purchase folding chairs for the fire hall. The committee in charge of each extends its thanks to those who donated articles for the rummage sale and food for the dinner, also to all who helped on the projects.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. Robert Smith and Mrs. Theron Esterbrook.

The Mature Parent

Child's Lie Doesn't Mean He's Starting Secret Life

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

HUGH and his friend Rory were on their way home from Cub Scout meeting. As they were passing a building excavation some men exploded dynamite. The boys decided to wait and see the next explosion.

Arriving home an hour late for supper, Hugh said he'd lost his Scout badge and had spent the two hours looking for it.

But Rory's mother had just telephoned the truth to his parents. Because Hugh's father was frightened by his lie, he became very angry. He feared that he'd lose all control of Hugh if the boy started making secrets of what he did.

He was so scared he couldn't see the only important thing to see about a lie—the child's belief that we disapprove his desires.

THUS Hugh's lie said to his father, "I am not a boy who could desire to see dynamite exploded. The only desires I have are those I know you approve. So I've spent these two hours virtuously laboring to find my Scout badge instead of watching men blast dynamite."

Unfortunately, Hugh's father didn't register the suspicious belief behind the boy's lie. He attacked the lie—and sent Hugh to bed, thoroughly convinced that his father could not tolerate a son who desired to watch explosions.

That we are the enemy of his desires is a dangerous conviction for any child to develop.

So the way to deal with lies is showing ourselves to be the friend of the child's desire.

WE say to Hugh, "I'm all for your watching dynamite explode. What we dislike is the way you did it. You kept dinner waiting so that you have to eat it cold. You've worried us so that we're angry instead of being glad you had a good time. If you'd let us know where you were, these things wouldn't have happened. What trouble you've caused yourself by doing a good thing the wrong way!"

We can't talk like this to our liar if we're all steamed up with panic that he's beginning a secret life.

So it's pretty important to see that his lie doesn't herald a secret life at all. It's just his way of telling us he thinks we'd hate what he wanted to do.

90th Anniversary Of J. K. Crooks

Corvdon—J. K. Crooks, who enjoyed the distinction of being this community's oldest resident, will observe his 90th birthday anniversary on Wednesday, July 17.

Maintaining a keen interest in affairs of the present day, he also recalls many interesting happenings concerning village and area in years past. Extremely active for his advanced years, one of his favorite hobbies is gardening in which he apparently enjoys.

For many years a faithful member of the Methodist church he also served as a member of the school board for over 50 years, retiring in 1951.

With Mrs. Crooks, he spends the winter season in Florida, returning each April to the community in which he has been a lifelong resident.

He has two daughters and two sons, Mrs. Jefferson Sears, Akeley, Mrs. Bernad Joy, Warren, Raymond, in Buffalo, N. Y.; and Nelson, of Corvdon.

Many friends will join in extending best wishes for a very happy birthday.

Mowell-Moore Nuptials June 15 in Tallahassee

Of local interest is announcement of a lovely June 15 wedding in Trinity Methodist church of Tallahassee, Fla., when Sara Sandra Moore, daughter of Mrs. William Booker Moore, Jr., became the bride of Ensign John Byard Mowell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Mowell, formerly of Warren and now residents of that southern city.

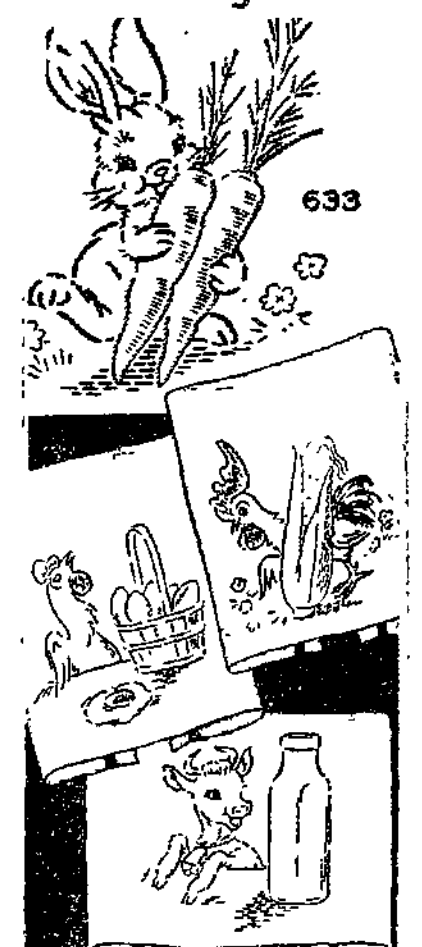

Dr. Glenn C. James was officiating clergyman for the 7:30 p. m. candlelight ceremony.

Wearing pale candlelight peau du soie and French Chantilly lace, the bride was given in marriage by her father and was attended by a maid of honor and four bridesmaids wearing waltz length starched lace dresses of pale pink.

Mr. Mowell was best man for his son, and ushers included Robert Hampson, Warren, Tom and Dick Mowell, brothers of the bridegroom.

The reception following the ceremony was held at the home of the bride's mother.

For Fannie Farmer—

The Measure of Success Was Level

BY AILEEN SNOODY
NEA Staff Correspondent

BOSTON—(NEA)—Whether another person is a good cook or a bad cook may be a question of the eater's memory. Mom's apple pie rarely finds an equal.

But since 1896 young brides and matrons have been putting the same measure of ingredients in a recipe—supposedly with the same end results.

As the 19th century faded, a young Bostonian set her kitchen in order for the U.S. cooking world to follow. This was Fannie Merritt Farmer, a determined redhead who didn't let two paralytic attacks keep her down for long.

She knew intimately the value of making every motion count because of her handicap. This she passed on to housewives through simplified recipes and household tips.

TODAY'S SWEET-TOOTHED generation knows her name, although the spelling is different, mainly from a candy company that uses some of her recipes. But in her heyday as head of Miss Farmer's School of Cookery in Boston, she changed cooking from a guessing game with foreign recipes to another science.

As gourmets say, "cooking is chemistry." Miss Farmer understood this and set up recipes using level measures. This simple-sounding move had more repercussions in the kitchen than a pan of beans boiling dry.

BEFORE THIS STEP everything went into the pot as a "pinch" of this or a "scant cup" of that. Miss Farmer tossed out old-fashioned "heaping teaspoon" or "juice of one lemon" instructions to use exact quantities of all ingredients.

Daughter of a printer, Fannie

backed into her profession of teaching and writing of culinary arts. Paralyzed at 17, she spent 10 years virtually bedridden. She was determined, when active again, to be self-sufficient.

She was a helper in a nearby household before discovering the Boston Cooking School which aimed at instructing future teachers. Graduated in 1889, she became director of the school in 1891 and started her own school in 1902.

And "primly and elegantly dressed, red-haired Miss Farmer would limp briskly about the instruction platform directing her remarks to some 200 pupils." Her talks usually were reprinted and she even lectured at Harvard Medical School. From 1905 until her death in 1915 she also conducted a magazine cooking department.

FANNIE FARMER PAID to have her first book of collected, tested recipes published. Little, Brown & Co. warily printed 3,000 copies of the "Boston Cooking School Cook Book." Soon it outsold such turn of the century best sellers as "Quo Vadis" and "Little Women."

Fannie Merritt Farmer is now an "honored alumna" of Medford High School, although she never got around to finishing the school. And sales of revised editions of the cookbook near the three million mark.

Quite a coup for a woman who in her own household was not considered equal as a cook to her sister May or the housekeeper, Maggie Murphy.

Ellis and Hawn Rites In Church at Marietta

Announcement is received from Marietta, O., of the marriage of Dorothy Jean Hawn, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William S. Hawn, to David Greenhill Ellis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Ellis, also of that place.

A double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Hailan Stenger in First Baptist church on the afternoon of July 8.

The bride, granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schuler of Yankee Bush and relative of many in the area, wore Alencon lace over satin, the three-tiered skirt over hoops. Matching mitts and veil of illusion attached to a lace cap studded with seed pearls completed her costume and her flowers were white roses carried atop a white Bible.

Attendants, Kay Oesterle, Martha McGarvey and Linda Hawn, wore pink and carried pink and blue flowers.

Completing the bridal party were Richard Eddy, best man; Jason Kimball, Fred Hunter and Franklin Blair.

Following the reception in the church parlors, the couple left for a wedding trip. Returning, they are at home to friends at 728 Fifth street, Marietta. Both young people are graduates of Marietta High School and seniors in Marietta College.

SOCIETY

Youngsville Girls Presenting Recital

Lillian Swanson will present with Olson, 16 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Olson, Youngsville, in a piano recital at 8:00 p. m. Tuesday at Saron Lutheran church, at that place. She will be assisted by Linda Rapp mezzo-soprano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Rapp, 411 College street.

Miss Olson and Miss Rapp will be seniors at Youngsville High school next fall. They were both members of this year's school band, choir and in the cast of the junior play, and are also members of Youngsville Firemen's Band and Saron Lutheran Senior choir.

Miss Olson served as president of the Dramatics Club and has studied piano with Miss Swanson for five years. Miss Rapp is a member of FTA and is a voice student of Byron Swanson.

All interested friends are cordially invited to enjoy the following program numbers:

Piano—Solfegetti, Bach; Moonlight Sonata (first movement); Beethoven: Grande Valse Brillante, Chopin.

Voice—Oh Rest in the Lord, from The Elijah, Mendelssohn; Bless This House, Brahe; The Lord Has Given Me a Song, Livingston.

Piano—Prelude in C Minor, Czerny; Silver Cascade, Niemann; Malaguena, Lecuona.

Voice—Without a Song, Youmans; I Believe, Stillman.

Piano—Fourth Piano Concerto, Williams, with Miss Lillian Swanson at the second piano.

Gathered From The Party Line

The Rev. C. W. Baldwin, pastor of Grace Methodist church, is serving as Chaplain at Methodist House at Chautauqua for this week.

A postal, dated July 10, London, SW1, brings greetings from the Clifford Betts, and thus note, "Just about to leave here and will certainly be glad to get home."

In Trinity Memorial Episcopal church on Sunday, the rite of Holy Baptism was administered to Kenneth Dewey, son of Rex W. and Anne Whitaker Dewey, Columbus, O.; and to William Rex Biekarcok, son of John C. R. and Phyllis Beck Biekarcok.

In its July meeting, Pleasantville Joint School Board approved contracts for Guy Christie of Tidoute, recent Edinboro State Teachers' College graduate, who will teach art; and Mrs. Stella Hoover of Pleasantville, who has been teaching at Plumer and will be assigned to an elementary post.

It will please his many friends to learn that Robert Cowden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Cowden, Fourth avenue, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Cowden, West Fifth avenue, is singing with the Chautauqua Opera Association Chorus, making his initial appearance in "The Student Prince" and singing in the Romberg operetta again tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lindell, Russell, with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Billquist of Jamestown, left Friday evening for a week's vacation and fishing trip at Lake Dushane, in the Gowganda area of Ontario.

Greetings from Mr. and Mrs. "Shorty" Miller indicate they are enjoying their western trip and the scenic wonders along the way.

United Refining Company employees, numbering 29, were recognized on the Forbes Field public address system and the Bob Prince broadcast yesterday as being among the many groups attending the Pirate-Cincinnati double-header. The trip was made by chartered bus of Warren City Lines.

Back in town after a jaunt over a good share of Europe are the Harry Schmidts, Market street.

Announcement is received from Mrs. Peter G. Pulakos, publicity chairman, of the first annual Garden Tour sponsored by District VIII, Federated Garden Clubs of Pennsylvania, and scheduled for August 7. The tour will include visits to 18 of the most noted gardens of the city, with a box luncheon from noon to 2:00 p. m. in the gardens of the chairman, Mrs. C. Dean Klahr.

Familiar to many in this area are scenes of Ridgway, Montmorenci, Twin Lakes, Clarion River bridge, etc., seen in the paintings of Eunice McCloskey, primitive painter of Ridgway, showing in the Chautauqua Art Association Gallery through July 27. Among paintings being shown is one titled "Lower End of Main Street" (in Ridgway), awarded first prize at Edwin Forrest Gallery in Philadelphia and chosen best water color in the show to represent Pennsylvania in the National Museum in Washington, D. C.

In last week's session of Down One Club in Jamestown, several local pairs were listed among high-scoring players in the North-South field, Mrs. Anabel Duff and Mrs. Shurl Glass were in fourth position; for East-West play, Dr. Robert Israel and son, John, were third, Mrs. David Cropp and Mrs. M. A. Kornreich, fifth.

Mrs. Paul E. Jackson has returned from a visit with Mrs. Carl R. Steele, Jr., the former Stephanie Bryan, and her small daughter, Deborah, in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stewart and son, Sam, and their grandson, Larry Stewart, Rahway, N. J., spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Anderson, Warren-Kinzua road.

Scouts at Jamboree

HERE'S ONE MOBILIZATION FOR PEACE, THANK GOODNESS!

By BILL LOMBARD

Wed., July 10, 1957

Members of Warren's Jamboree Troop 16 arrived safely at the National Jamboree at about 2:45 p. m. on Tuesday.

Scoutmaster Leo Rapp said that the campsite is shaping up nicely considering that the troop only has been in camp less than a day.

The trip down from Warren took about 10 hours. The contingent made stops at Clearfield, Phillipsburg, and at Cornwall for lunch.

The troop is set up in five sections one for each patrol and one for the leaders.

The troop is camped in Section 33 in view of the campsite is the Valley Forge Memorial Arch.

There are over 100 State Patrolmen always on duty and willing to assist the Scouts and visitors.

Almost every place you go you can find people swapping and trading friendships and home town goods.

Jamboree Coming Along Nicely

Chief Complanter Council is honored to have the only Scout from the English colony of Bermuda, he is Maynard Soares of Pembroke, Bermuda.

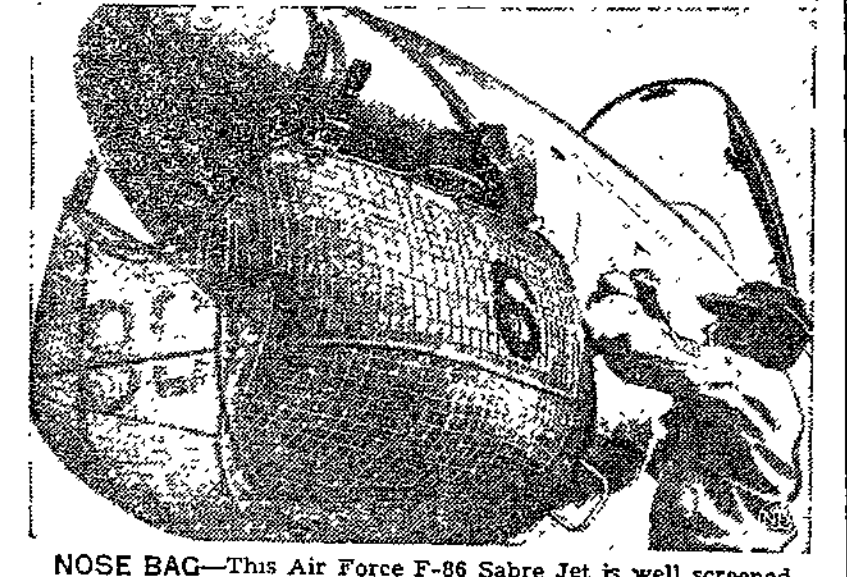

The patrols are running nicely and there is very much swapping going on at all times and all the boys are getting along nicely together.

Every place that you look you can see very colorful gateways. The Chief Complanter gateway is constructed of plywood and is the model of the Chief Complanter tomb.

An award that all Jamboree contingent members can gain is the Jamboree Adventure Award. To gain this award you have to qualify in seven out of 14 events.

To the Editor
Warren Times-Mirror
Warren, Pa.

Dear Sir:

I happened to be in Warren on the Fourth of July and saw your Mardi Gras Parade.

I was amazed at the lack of respect to the American Flag shown by the citizens of Warren and surrounding areas. We try, as parents and leaders in various youth movements, to impress on our youth respect and pride in the American Flag and then to witness a lack of loyalty as I saw on the Fourth, is indeed a disillusionment. About half of the men wore hats—I did not see any except my husband remove his—in fact, a sailor in full dress stood in front of us never once saluting the Flag. What can we expect of our future generations if their elders are disrespectful?

It would behoove us to give this some thought and remember that our Flag is a symbol of this great country of ours.

As Franklin K. Lane in "The Makers of the Flag" makes the Flag say to us: "I am whatever you make me, nothing more. I am your belief in yourself, your dream of what people may become. I live a changing life, a life of moods and passions, of heartaches and tired muscles."

"Sometimes I am strong with pride, when men do an honest work, fitting the rails together truly. Sometimes I droop, for then purpose has gone from me, and cynically I play the coward. Sometimes I am loud, garish, and full of that ego that blasts judgment."

"But always, I am all that you hope to be, and have the courage to try for."

Sincerely yours,
Martha E. Cederquist.
(Mrs. Norman Cederquist)

North Warren, 15 July 1957

Editor Times-Mirror:

As a member of the Circus Fans Association of America, I would like to call attention to the fact that this Friday the people of Warren will have the opportunity to patronize one of the finest circuses currently on the road. The Mills Bros. Circus for eighteen years has built and maintained an enviable reputation as a good, clean show where "you got your money's worth!"

This year their all new edition features acts from many foreign nations as well as the cream of the domestic circus talent. Innovations such as ultra modern seat wagons are side-by-side the real old time circus band conducted by Ovila Leboeuf, cutting the show in great style. The elephant act has been widely hailed as the finest of all time, led by the almost human Miss Burma.

The Circus Fans of America, quick to realize that undesirable persons are in every business, refuse to support any organization known to be connected with or remotely associated in questionable undertakings.

It is with all sincerity that attendance at this show is urged. The Mills Bros. personally manage their show from the lot. They openly flaunt John R. North's statement that the tented circus is a thing of the past to the extent that they showed to good business on the lot in Pittsburgh where his outfit ground to a halt last season.

A worthy cause will be aided as in Warren the show is sponsored by the Starbrick and North Warren Fire Departments. Two performances will be given, afternoon and evening at the Starbrick Showgrounds this Friday July 19.

Thank you.

State Hospital Field Day Cut Short By Rain Enjoyed by 1900

One of the 18 competitive events scheduled for Warren State Hospital's 24th annual Field Day were run off Thursday afternoon before rain curtailed the remainder of the performance. Almost 1,900 patients participated in or watched the events, saw a drill exhibition by the Oil City Bonnettes, and heard a musical program by the Hospital Orchestra, which also played for dance numbers presented by 16 women patients.

Rainfall during the noon hour caused a brief postponement of Field Day, but shortly after 1 p. m. the great number of patients began to trek into the stands and applauded the partial program. Pictures of the Field Day events and crowds were shown over an Erie TV station at 6:15 p. m. Friday.

One of the chief attractions of the day proved to be the antics of the clowns: Eddie Gardner, Bob Simpson, Don Slicker, Ed Gustafson, Jim Lawson and Roge Heeter, who were alternately cheered and booed as they tried to capture an escaped gorilla (Gardner) and in their dentist's act when of course the wrong tooth was pulled from the wrong man (Simpson, the dentist).

Just before the final rainstorm all were served with a tasty picnic luncheon.

Mrs. Violet Borg, with her harp provided music at the Admission Building for ladies unable to attend the Field Day program out doors. Volunteer Workers entertained at Geriatrics building as well as the Infirmary.

RAIN SCUTTLES AIR TRAFFIC—Grounded passengers keep their feet elevated at Chicago's Midway Airport as torrents of water flood waiting rooms during the Windy City's heaviest rainstorm in over 70 years. Over a half-foot of rain fell, most of it in a six-hour period, causing several storm-connected deaths and property damage in the millions of dollars.

Three Weekend Mishaps Recorded on Highways

One driver was cited for passing in an intersection as three highway mishaps blackened the weekend holiday picture.

William I. Beers, 17, of 17½ East Fifth street, was cited by borough police about 2:40 p. m. Saturday after a motorist swinging west on Pennsylvania avenue from North street found Beers in the act of passing a car and in the north lane heading east.

Beers machine sustained $100 damages and the second vehicle, being driven south off North street by Robert L. Cooper, 45, of 103 Hammond street, had $300 damages estimated.

About 2 a. m. Saturday, Frank Servidio, 22, of 109 Myrtle street, was swinging into the State Dinor on Pennsylvania avenue east from the south lane when a westbound car on the avenue hit the rear of his car.

The Servidio machine sustained an estimated $40 damages, as did the westbound machine operated by Gerald H. Carroll, 34, of 1309 Allegheny avenue.

Matthews Run Road on Route 27 north of Youngsville claimed its second victim of last week when about 1:35 p. m. Saturday when DeWitt Christy, 62, of Pittsburgh, didn't negotiate a turn in an exactly prescribed manner. Christy's car skidded and rolled over about six miles north of Youngsville with damages estimated at $500.

LOCALS MISS OUT IN JAYCEE TOURNEY

Warren's two Jaycee Junior Golf Tourney entries who traveled to Latrobe Saturday ran into some topflight competition as they met up against 59 JC golf champs from across the entire state.

Bob Yerg posted 85 on his final round and Ross Kremer holed an S3 but neither boy ranked high enough to compete in the final matches. Only 19 did qualify. Jaycees William Hesch and Richard Munch accompanied the boys.

Sixteen Violent Deaths Recorded Over Weekend

By The Associated Press

Pittsburgh (AP) — Mid summer heat that sent thousands upon thousands of Western Pennsylvanians to the highways or swimming sites seeking a measure of comfort helped roll up a tragic total of 16 deaths in the area during the weekend.

Highway accidents cost 10 lives. Three persons died while swimming or boating and three others lost their lives in miscellaneous accidents.

Parks and resorts throughout the area were packed to capacity Saturday and Sunday, and roads were choked with traffic in many places during the homebound rush last night.

second alternate, Raymond O. Heist, was excused three weeks ago because of illness.

A hotel physician said Binghamman died of a heart attack. His death came as Judge Homer Kreider of Dauphin County Court and defense and prosecution attorneys prepared during the weekend recess to give the case to the jury next week.

Kreider began preparation of his charge to the jury and attorneys of their summations in the hope that most of the remaining testimony would be heard this week. Kreider said the case might then go to the jury the first part of next week.

first President ever to ride in helicopter when he led a simulated mass exodus from America's cities as mock air raid sirens screamed. In theory 168 H-bombs were dropped on 155 targets in the United States and its territories. Eisenhower was "evacuated" directly from the White House.

Today the clock was jumped hypothetically to 15 days after the attack. Purpose of this phase of the drill, to last until Friday, is to determine how a government-including would bring order out of chaos.

Only one H-bomb strike was supposed to have occurred. Presumably the United States hit back with such massive retaliation that the "enemy" itself was reeling and unable to launch another attack.

Eisenhower went to the command post to assess mock recovery efforts. With him were his Army, Navy and Air Force aides and his national security aide, Brig. Gen. Andrew J. Goodpaster.

The President arranged to fly back to Washington by helicopter, landing on the White House lawn, after a brief inspection tour.

dan, was completely consumed by the flames. Mr. Reardon's car, a 1957 Ford, and the Neider car, a 1953 Dodge, were also heavily damaged by the fire and collision.

The police chief's death was the first fatality on the four-lane stretch of highway since its opening in 1954. The mishap occurred on a level stretch of road just south of Reno.

John Bowen, a Venango County deputy sheriff, was struck by a car driven by Joseph Luppino, 37, of 832 Buffalo St. Franklin, while directing traffic at the scene of the accident.

Mr. Bowen was treated at the Franklin Hospital and discharged. He will receive X-rays tomorrow.

Young Luppino told State Police his headlights had gone out previous to arriving at the accident spot, and police had told him to "keep moving."

The youth said he did not see the man directing traffic, but suddenly he hit "something". Mr. Bowen was knocked down, but he got up by himself.

Pittsfield Driver Participates In Roll-Over Contest

Watts Flats—Walt James of Lakewood scored a victory in the feature run before 450 fans at the Roll-Over-Bowl Sunday afternoon, a specially card in which 53 cars vied. A special match race, with six James brothers starring and Walt winning, shared the spotlight. Five rollovers added color.

Runnerup in the feature was Elaine Eggleston of North Clymer, trailed by Rollie Woods of Watts Flats, Gene Covey of Niobe and Basil Ewer of Watts Flats.

In the James brothers attraction, Louie James placed second and Don James third, followed by Leroy, Clyde and Al.

The rollover list included Bob Hall of Pittsfield, Howie Davis of Jamestown, Carl Davis of Wrightsville, Len Davis of Wattsburg and Cleo Russ of Lakewood.

Funeral Services Friday Morning For Monsignor Hopkins

Rt. Rev. Monsignor James F. Hopkins, 86, pastor of St. Titus Catholic Church in Titusville and a frequent visitor to both Warren Catholic churches, died in St. Vincent Hospital, Erie, at 2 p. m. Sunday. Monsignor Hopkins, who was pastor at St. Titus for 29 years, had been in failing health for some time.

Friday he was able to celebrate morning mass but he became ill shortly afterwards. Saturday evening he was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital where he lapsed into a coma Sunday morning.

Msr. Hopkins was born May 1, 1871 in Jersey City, N. J., where he attended grade and high school. After graduating from seminary of Franciscan Fathers at St. Bonaventure he was ordained in Buffalo in 1900 and served as assistant pastor to Rev. Thomas Loneragan in Corry from 1900 to 1906.

Msr. Hopkins was established as permanent rector at St. Titus on August 4, 1928. His first project was to rebuild the church, which was rededicated Nov. 28, 1935. On June 8, 1950 he was given the Doctor of Law Degree by St. Bonaventure and the same day celebrated his Jubilee Mass.

The body will be in St. Titus rectory until 2:30 Thursday when it will be transferred to the church where Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus will maintain an honor guard Thursday night. Funeral services begin at 10:30 a. m. Friday with the singing of the Divine Office of the Dead by diocese priests. A solemn high requiem mass will follow with interment to be in Priests' Circle of St. Catherine Cemetery.

MRS. ARTHUR MICHEL

Funeral services were held at 10 a. m. Saturday for Mrs. Ethel Clara Michel, wife of Arthur Michel, of Cobham Park road, with Rev. A. E. Neil, pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist church, officiating. The large number in attendance and the many beautiful floral offerings expressed the love of all who knew her. The following served as bearers for interment in Sunset Hill cemetery, Jamestown: Parker Luce, Eugene Stearns, Fred Nordstrom, Walter Ondrezek, Jacob Michel, Jr. and Ernest Eggleston.

Attendance from away were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Earl Butts, Mrs. Florence Butts, Ashville, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Eggleston, South Dayton, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hilliard, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bantle, Mary Moore, Mrs. Anna Clark, Mrs. Dena Stewart, Carol Margie, Shirley, Douglas, Aldine, Bobbie and Connie Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Swanson, Mrs. Diana Terry, Mrs. Edna Smith, Mrs. Stedman, Mr. and Mrs. Bingham, Mrs. Dawn Keefe, Mrs. Frank Poppleton, Gordon Stearns, Mr. and

KILLED IN WEST

A highway accident Wednesday in Arcata, Calif., claimed the life of Donald LaVerne Smith, 25, son of Mrs. Ada Smith and the late John E. Smith of South Bradford. Mr. Smith, a native of Bradford, graduated from Bradford Senior High school in 1951, was a U. S. Navy airman during the Korean War, and following his service discharge, had enrolled in Humboldt College, Arcata.

BOY INJURED

A ten-year-old Jamestown boy is in fairly good condition today at WCA Hospital where he was taken Sunday after being struck and thrown about 40 feet by a car in front of Busti Church of God. Authorities said Wesley Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Patterson of 128 Harrison street, Jamestown, sustained chest and hand injuries plus a lacerated scalp when he ran across the road from the church front about 10 a. m. yesterday. Car driver was Leon Anderson, 20, of 61 Fairmont Avenue, Jamestown.

MINOR MISHAP

A 57 Hillman Station wagon being driven west on Fifth Avenue about 9:30 this morning came off second best when it was struck by a southbound truck at the Market Street intersection. According to police, Olive M. Wanner of 23 Orchard Street was proceeding through the intersection along Fifth when a southbound truck operated by Gerald Doverspike, 35, of Timblin, Pa. hit the machine in the right rear. The Hillman had an estimated $80 damages, the truck none. Witnesses said the truck ran the light.

MORE MARRIAGES

Register and Recorder Gurney Ball reports that he's handing out permission left and right with these couples vouchsafed the late legal union: Robert Edward Brooker of RD 2, Warren and Roberta Lou Edwards of Warren; Ivan Francis Smith and Maxine Dolores Bechwith Smith, both of RD 1, Pittsfield; Erwin Donald Easton and Jessie Rowley Matson, both of Jamestown; Oscar Carl Munson and Mary Elizabeth Sleeman, both of Jamestown; Gene Elwood McMillen of Irvine and Nancy Lou Tuley, Youngsville; Larry Gail O'Donnell and Karen Barbara Larson, both of Sheffield; John Boley of Lansdale and Martha Ann Milenius of Warren.

AWARDED CERTIFICATE

The National Restaurant Association recently presented a certificate to B. William Proukrou, manager of Penn Restaurant, in appreciation for his efforts to advance the restaurant business in the public interest. The beautifully-engraved document, signed by John Sabatos, president; Frank J. Wiffler, vice president; Larry Hilaire, vice president; and L. C. Langford, treasurer, reads as follows: "In appreciation for your wholehearted and loyal endorsement of the manifold activities of this Association; for your personal support through financial assistance in the form of membership dues; for unselfish contribution of time, thought, and effort to local, state and national industry affairs; and for cooperation with other National Restaurant Association members, and allied industries, to advance the restaurant business in the public interest."

270 Reported Drowned In Caspian Sea Tragedy

Tehran (AP) — Press reports reaching here said 270 persons drowned when a Russian fishing vessel was wrecked yesterday in the Caspian Sea.

Russian officials at Port Fahlevi said the fishing boat Esghabad crashed into rocks between Salyany and Baku during a heavy storm yesterday while en route to Baku.

The reports said there were no survivors.

The boat had been carrying passengers and food supplies to Baku from Russia, the reports added.

Nearly five tons of fish and other food were reported lost when the ship went down.

Check Is Received From The State Civil Defense

Borough Manager George Geracimos today announced the receipt of $18,866.13 from Pennsylvania Civil Defense office for emergency repairs made following the big flood in March of 1955. The monies will cover most of the expenses incurred for cleaning up and hauling away debris, cleaning clogged sewers and volunteer fire units which lost items of equipment. The borough had asked for approximately $1,000 more but some small amounts were deleted by the state.

Victories In Four Double-headers Help Keep Phillies In National League Running

By JACK HAND
The Associated Press
The Phillies are trying for the national League jackpot by playing "double or nothing" with the rest of the league. By winning four double-headers in the last 10 days, the 50-1 shots of opening day now are only half a game off the pace.

Snapping a losing streak July 1, the Phils have won 11 of their last 12 games.

Curt Simmons and Jim Hearn ended the pitching yesterday as the usually light-hitting Phils hit five home runs and beat St. Louis 6-2 and 11-4. Von McDaniel, a 18-year-old $50,000 bonus baby, offered his first major league debut in the opener and Larry Jackson, the Cards' top winner, lost the second.

Brooklyn dropped Milwaukee to third place, one game behind St. Louis, when Gil Hodges hit a two-run homer in the ninth for a 3-2 victory after successive doubles by Frank Torre and Andy Pafko had given the Braves a tie-breaking run in the top of the ninth.

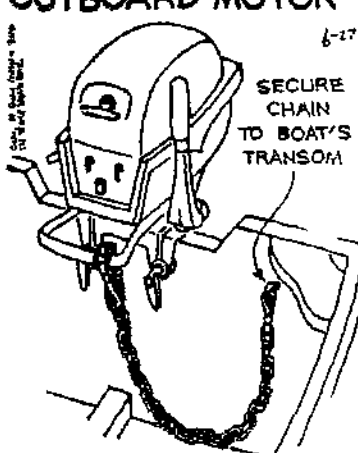

Cincinnati snapped its seven-game losing streak, slugging Pittsburgh twice 9-6 and 12-4. New York outlasted Chicago 8-6 in 12 innings, winning on Willie Mays' two-run homer after Whitey Lockman's second home run of the day had tied the game in the ninth. Just when the American League appeared on the verge of becoming a race once more, the New York Yankees turned on a six-run rally to get an even break in Chicago.

The Tanks bounced back from a 4-0 deficit to a 6-4 second-game victory on a grand slam homer by

CLARENDON SCENE OF EXCITING GAME
Clarendon Old Bucks downed the Meek Lambs 20 to 10 yesterday in a softball game in Clarendon on the Clarendon diamond. The Old Bucks were wicketed with Crocker, just arriving back from "Wichita" club, Bean patching, and Pee Wee Jackson behind the plate. White pitched for the Lambs with Albaugh, Youngquist filling the gap. A large attendance was on hand to see the Lambs suffer their first loss to the Old Bucks in the first Clarendon softball game of the season.

Warren Comet Is Winner of Duel On Stateline Raceway

Busti — The Warren Comet, Emory Mahan, clinching his fourth win in five feature starts at Stateline Speedway, climaxed 99 laps of late model stock car racing Saturday night, with a sensational victory.

From the green flag, the 25 lap feature run settled down to a duel between Mahan and Brockway's Squirt Johns, behind the wheel of Jim Patrick's '56 Ford. Neither driver could gain an advantage and it developed into a Chevy vs. Ford battle. On the 14th lap Johns lost control on the turn and skidded broadside into Mahan's car.

Both drivers exhibited the skill learned from experience and neither completely lost control. The collision wedged in the door of Johns car and pinned his arms, but he outdrove everyone in the field except Mahan, to take runnerup honors. Johns was taken to a doctor for X-rays but his injuries

Kinzua's Pitcher Fans 15 Batters To Beat Sugar Grove

The Kennedy Grill nine, battling with Kinzua for first place in the Chautauqua County Baseball Association's flag race, made Sunday's greatest stride toward Pentville by notching two victories rather than the customary one.

The Grillers measured Busti's defending champions for the twin-triumph, posting a 9-7 decision in the last three innings of a game protested May 14 by Busti, then slamming their way to an 11-3 verdict in the regularly scheduled contest.

Kennedy was holding a 5-2 lead when the Busti protest halted the May 14 contest and Sunday's hostilities took up with the same lineups and identical conditions in the seventh inning. Reg Perdue was on the bill for Kennedy and Ken Wilcox took the slap for Busti.

Kinzua's 4-2 victory over Sugar Grove at Kinzua was principally the sage of the 15-strikeout, fourth job turned in by the winners. Don Mohney, who had a no-hitter going for five innings. Young Jerry Chulcott held the victors at bay until he bumped into control trouble in the fifth when he was relieved by Ron Swanson during the uprising that netted all four of Kinzua's tallies.

Swanson broke Mohney's spell in the sixth with a single, which was followed by a one-base blow by Manager Gene Coan and Chico Donato's two-run double.

Dick White outduelled Falconer's Larson in a pitchers' battle as Freysburg chalked a 3-1 victory at Falconer. White fanned seven and walked one, Larson whiffed eight and walked four.

★ GRAYSON'S SCOREBOARD ★ Mantle or Mays? Rival Managers Would Like Pick

NEW YORK—(NEA)—When Duke Snider decided (a) he didn't like left-handed pitchers and (b) baseball and the customers even less, he considerably narrowed down what once was a hot, three-way argument.

That would be, of course, who is the best all-round ballplayer playing center field—Mickey Mantle, Willie Mays or Snider? Now the debate is down to the Mick and Willie and you can't go into a beer saloon without having it crop up.

Paul Richards' placid pan screwed into a tired scowl when his opinion was asked. The Baltimore manager who sees too much of Mays in the spring is only thankful that both are not in the American League.

"No one ever hit the ball farther than Mantle," drawled Richards. "Mays is worth a couple of runs a game just because he bangs around. You're asking me to compare them. What you're really asking me to do is get dragged into a barroom argument. Anyone who tells you he likes one better than the other is just popping off."

"With Mantle and Mays, you take whichever one you can get, then get down on your knees and thank everybody responsible."

MAYS BATTED .345 in 1954, drove in 127 runs in '55 and stole 40 bases last season. "Some year Willie is going to wrap all this together and make people forget all other ballplayers," commented Bill Rigney. "Well, all other ballplayers except Mickey Mantle."

Mantle did put them all together last year in winning the American League's triple crown, batting .353 with 52 home runs and 130 runs-batted-in.

"And the records don't show how many extra bases Mantle and Mays take during a season," added Richards. "The book doesn't show the doubles they catch for big outs, the triples they cut to singles."

"Or how many big innings the Yankees had because the pitcher walked Mantle in self defense and wound up getting killed by what followed."

"There's a bulge Mantle has had—playing with a consistently fine club."

"Mantle perhaps is a little more dangerous than Mays at bat, has the advantage of being a matchless switch-hitter, which gives him the best of it in every park."

"Certain pitchers get out the best hitters at times, but not for long. It goes without saying that neither Mantle nor Mays has a batting weakness."

MAYS HAS SWIPE 23 bases this season. Mantle has stolen seven in eight attempts. "Mantle is the faster, but Mays is the superior baserunner only because he is sound physically," pointed out Richards. "Mantle is prone to injury, has to protect his legs. Indeed, the fact that he is perfectly sound while Mantle is not, perhaps is the only reason why Willie could be given a margin."

"Mays also could be given a slight edge in the field, although Mantle will make nearly as many great plays. There isn't much between them in throwing. No one does it better when it comes to length and accuracy."

Mantle and Mays run a dead heat even in age. The Say-hey Kid at 26 is only five months older. "I wish I had my choice," concluded Paul Richards. "That would be once when I couldn't make a mistake."

Kinzua Is Unseated From Top Position In the C. C. B. A.

Says the Jamestown Sun sports writer: Kennedy Grill, which unseated Kinzua from the top spot in the Chautauqua County Baseball Association Sunday in the ninth week of 1957's competition, will hold Busti, co-sharer of third place in the standings, in what appears as the chief attention-catcher of the coming Sunday's five-game slate.

The Grillers, whose lineup comprises a group of veterans long in the spotlight of Jamestown's Muny Double A League and semi-pro circles, are figured to win this one but by no great margin, as Busti, 1956 champion, has made a remarkable comeback after a shaky start. Kennedy boasts a 9-1 record, Busti, stands at 7-3.

Freysburg, sharer of the third-place stalemate with Busti, moves into Falconer for a clash with Manager Marv Bader's eighth-place team, another entry that has been making business-like gestures of late and may prove a bit stubborn.

Second-place Kinzua, which lost its first game of the season by the narrowest of margins, 1-0, to Busti last Sunday, will host Sugar Grove's braves, but before that—this evening to be precise—the Grovers will entertain fourth-place Onoville in a makeup game. The Grovers have played but seven games.

Brocton goes to Onoville for Sunday's other league encounter.

Gus Brickner, a Charleroi steel-worker who makes a practice of swimming in the Monongahela river each New Year's Day, is on his way to France where he will attempt to swim the English Channel. The 45-year-old grandfather will attempt to make the treacherous 20-mile crossing from Calais, France to Dover, England. He prepared for the channel try by making long-distance swims in Canada and in the Pittsburgh district. Although Brickner isn't sure just when he'll make his try, conditions are best between mid-August and early September.

Ridgway Record: Ridgway's little League program—now in its seventh year—got another shot in the arm today. Spokesmen for three local industries have announced they jointly plan to purchase all of the necessary materials to enclose the entire playing field with a wooden fence. The industries—Hyde-Murphy Co.; Molded Materials and International Powder Metallurgy Co.—estimated that the materials, when purchased at actual "cost," would run in the neighborhood of $1,000. Local carpenters will be asked to donate their services to erect the fence, which will be erected and constructed according to specifications established by national Little League headquarters. The generous contribution by the three local industries turns a long-standing dream into a reality for Little League followers here.

Brockway and DuBois already have Little League parks enclosed by wooden fences. All material for the new fence will be available in August and should be erected a short time later.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

By The Associated Press
BATTING — Bill Skowron, Yankees hit a grand slam pinch homer enabling the New York Yankees to come from behind with 6-4 victory over Chicago in second game after dropping the opener, 3-1.

PITCHING — Billy Hoelt, Tigers held Baltimore to seven hits and aided own cause with two home runs in 10-2 Detroit romp.

Fielding — The program, and they learn a great deal about soil, water, forests, minerals, and wildlife. The youngsters are taught, practically, the important facts about natural resource use and preservation by instructors from state and federal conservation agencies.

This worthwhile program in outdoor living and learning began, this year, on June 9. Four groups of boys will enjoy a season at the Forestry Camp this summer before it closes, August 3.

Costly Nest Material
"Soon after planting tomato plants, the last week of May, I found about a dozen of them missing or damaged," says Game Protector Joseph Kistner, Centre County. "Keeping close check on the garden I learned that a pair of starlings were tearing the plants apart and using them to build a nest in a hollow tree. Total loss before the situation was corrected was about 30 plants. An empty nest of expensive construction is now available for occupancy. The former tenants are no longer around to use it."

A Weekly Newsletter
Issued by the Pennsylvania Game Commission

Following customary procedure the Game Commission will meet Saturday, June 29, with representatives of organizations and agencies qualified to offer views on game and fur seasons and bag limits for the hunting license year beginning September 1. The meeting will be held at 9 a. m. Daylight Saving Time, in Public Utility Commission Hearing Room No. 1, on the ground floor of the North Office Building, Harrisburg, Pa.

Representatives invited will be from sportsmen's organizations, state and national forest officials, The Pennsylvania Trappers Association, The Penn State University, the chairman of appropriate committee in the State Legislature, and others.

Recommendations submitted in writing, and discussed, by these spokesmen will be considered, along with those of Game Commission personnel, when the Commission sets the 1957 seasons and bag limits at its meeting July 1.

Receives National Award
The Game Commission's Executive Director, Logan J. Bennett, was formally presented the Outdoorsman of the Year award in New York City on July 7. John M. Olin, President of Olin-Matheson Chemical Corporation, presented Dr. Bennett with a magnificent 12 gauge double barrel shotgun.

On the right side of the handsome walnut stock is a gold plate inset engraved to the "Winchester Outdoorsman of the Year 1956". The state seal of Pennsylvania appears in gold on the underside of the receiver. A ruffed grouse, Pennsylvania's state bird, is inset in gold on either side of the frame.

Trappers Hold Annual Meeting
The Pennsylvania Trappers Association held a well-attended meeting on June 8th at Hamburg, Pa. One of the principal items discussed dealt with the recommendations the Association would make to the Game Commission relative to fur seasons for the coming hunting license year. Another topic was legislation pertaining to the trappers' interests being considered in the current session of the General Assembly. Other matters of special interest to those present of course received their share of consideration.

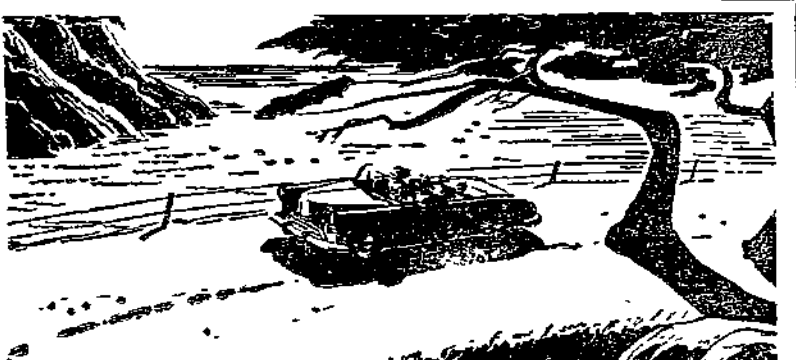

In addition to the Pennsylvania trappers, out-of-state champion fur takers were also in attendance. As well as the editor of National Trappers Digest, outdoor writers, trap company and equipment representatives, fur buyers, and others. One man came all the way from Iowa.

The Pennsylvania Game Commission was represented at this meeting by Paul Faylor, who heads the agency's predator control program, and Haves Englert, the Commission's Assistant Chief of Law Enforcement. Steve Emanuel, President of the Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, addressed the meeting on pending legislation affecting hunters and trappers, and he invited the Trappers Association to join the Federation.

Junior Conservation Camp
The ideal facilities of the Forestry Camp operated by The Pennsylvania State University are again being utilized by boys privileged to attend the Junior Conservation Camp conducted there.

Beginning in 1948 a limited number of Pennsylvania high school sophomores and juniors have been offered this camping and outdoor-living experience. Since 1949 the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs has sponsored boys selected to receive this special training. Approximately 1200 youths have accepted the opportunity so far. The Federation's camp chairman, Charles W. Stoddart, Jr., is a member of the University faculty.

While at the camp the boys have many unforgettable experiences. They are kept busy by a diversi-

July Milk Prices Above Last Year Administrator Says

New York.—Dairy farmers in the New York milkshed can expect their July uniform milk price to be 16 cents higher than a year ago, according to a forecast made today by Dr. C. J. Blanford, Market Administrator of the New York metropolitan milk marketing area. He estimated the price for the current month at $4.08 per hundredweight (46.5 quarts) as compared with $3.92 in 1956. The actual price for the month will be announced not later than August 14.

The Administrator's estimate was based on a July fluid (Class 1-A) milk price of $5.30 per hundredweight. The July, 1956 fluid price was $5.22 per hundredweight or eight cents less than this year's price.

Dr. Blanford also forecast higher fluid prices for August and September. The August price is estimated at $5.62 per hundredweight, an increase of 23 cents over the August, 1956, price of $5.37. The September price is forecast at $5.88 per hundredweight, an increase of 51 cents over the price of $5.37 a year ago.

The July uniform price will be the last to be paid to dairy farmers under the current milk marketing orders. Beginning August 1, the present milk marketing area which includes New York City and Nassau, Westchester and Suffolk Counties will be expanded to include Upstate New York and Northern New Jersey.

Dr. Blanford said that estimates of uniform milk prices after July could not be made until data from the expanded area is available. New milk handlers throughout the area are required to report the receipts and disposition on milk from farmers for July but their payments to dairy farmers will be on milk received beginning August 1.

The August and September fluid prices were estimated at this time since the formula for determining them will be continued for those two months under the new regulation.

Uniform prices are paid directly to farmers by handlers and are determined by the users made of all of their milk delivered to plants approved for the marketing area. Fluid or Class 1-A prices are not paid directly to dairy farmers. Handlers account to the pool at those prices and also pay for other milk according to the use they make of it.

The New York-New Jersey milk marketing order which becomes effective August 1 was approved by 96 percent of the dairy farmers who voted in a referendum on June 25.

Warren Co. High in Number Of Nays Against Referendum

Only 15 percent of the 2440 Pennsylvania school districts have objected to the holding of a secret ballot referendum on whether or not Social Security benefits should be integrated with the retirement benefits of the Public School Employees' Retirement System.

But Warren County, with 15 nays, was No. 6 in the state in most number of objections filed. York and Beaver with 21 objections each led the counties objecting, heavily followed by Butler 20, Clarion 18, Mercer 16, Warren 15, and Jefferson and Lancaster 14 each.

Registering Warren County objections were Warren Borough,

Brokenstraw, Conewango, Deerfield, Eldred, Farmington, Freehold, Glade, Limestone, Pittsfield, Spring Creek, Tidoute, Watson, Sugar Grove Union, Youngsville Borough.

"In accordance with Act 662 of the 1955 session of the General Assembly," William L. Batt, Secretary of the Department of Labor and Industry stated, "Since less than 40 percent of the State's school districts have submitted objections, the secret ballot referendum on Social Security integration will be held in all Pennsylvania school districts on August 26 and 27, 1957, for all those members of the Public School Employes' Retirement System who, on May 26, 27, 28, 1957, stated a preference for Social Security coverage integrated with their present retirement system. Many members will vote by absentee ballot."

Under the law the Bureau of Social Security for Public Employees, under the direction of Paul C. Moomaw, Executive Director, furnished official information to the State's 2440 school districts on April 13, 1957, and each school district had a period of 60 days in which to file an objection. This 60-day period ended June 12, 1957. The official tabulation shows that 374 objections were filed. Of this number 99 were of doubtful legality. No legal ruling is necessary on these questionable objections because the total number received was 602 short of the 976 legal objections required to cancel the referendum.

Sow Pansies in Summer, You'll Wear 'Em in Spring

In addition to being one of the garden's most brilliantly colored and easily grown flowers, the summer-planted pansy offers you a chance to be the first in your neighborhood with fresh flowers next spring.

Now is the time to plant seed for that early spring harvest of beauty. Pansies are generally classed as annual flowers, but they really are biennial. They lie dormant through the winter, with little care, in a cold frame or sheltered place.

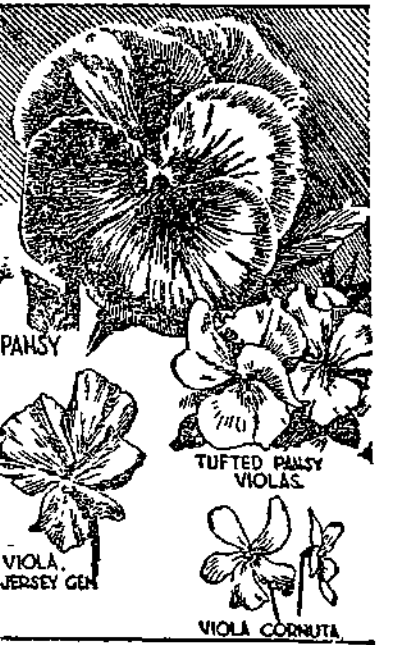

The plants will hold their green leaves all winter and bloom as soon as the earliest spring flowers are out. If grown in the shade, with faded flowers removed promptly, they will bloom all summer.

It is easy to start a flat or two of these lovely flowers each year. Seed may be sown as late as August 15 in soil prepared by mixing a third sharp sand, a third peat moss, and a third sifted top soil. Cover the surface with a half-inch layer of sphagnum moss, and broadcast the seed in this, with a little moss to cover them. Keep moist until the seeds germinate.

The moss will prevent damping-off, a fungus-disease which is dangerous in hot weather. Let the plants grow out in the open until fall. Then if you have a cold frame put the flat in it and cover with leaves for the winter.

Lacking a cold frame, set the flat in a protected corner, and cover. It is better to transplant the seedlings, setting them seven to eight inches apart in additional flats, but if you sowed thinly, this can be skipped and the plants left to winter in the original flat.

When the garden soil has been prepared in the spring, move the plants to a portion of the border which is on the shady side of a building. They may not grow as fast at first as plants in full sun, but they will soon catch up, and the rest of the summer they will surprise you.

In hot weather, the flowers will not grow to plant size, and the plants will become "leggy," with long stems. If cut back severely, and given a dose of plant food, new growth and more abundant flowers will result. Aside from the novelty of pansies in the summer, attractive color effects may be obtained by planting named varieties of pansies.

Violas may be grown the same way. Their flowers grow almost as large as the pansies in the summer, and are more numerous. Dark blue, yellow and white flowers will make a bed of border which will cool you off in the hottest weather.
